"I was so happy in the old shack - I'd always start early, put on the radio, sing and make spaghetti sauce and pizza dough."

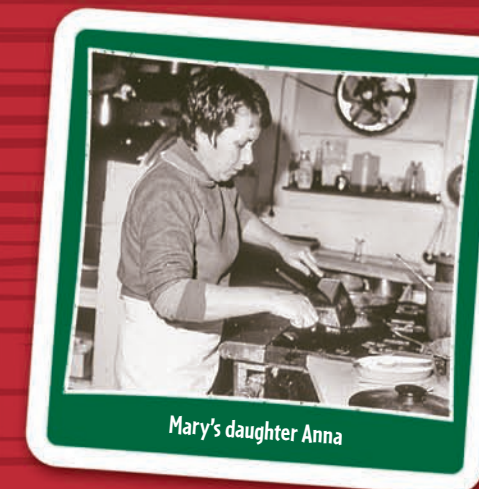

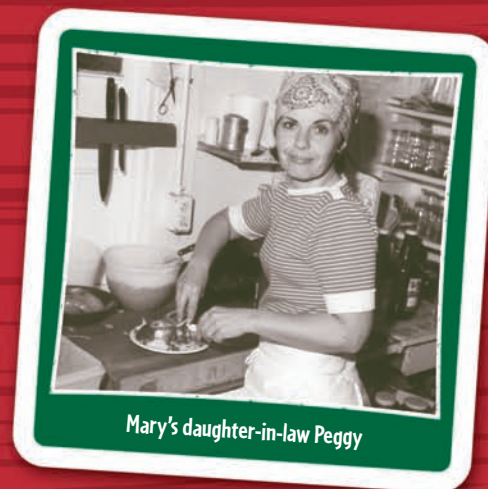

- Mary Fazio

When Mary Fazio opened her first Pizza Shack in Boyes Hot Springs back in 1959, she just wanted a warm and cozy place where her friends and family could gather around and enjoy her home cooked meals. She brought her own pots and pans and made everything from scratch. From pizza dough to soups, pasta sauce to salad dressings, it was Mary's homemade recipes that kept her friends and customers coming back to the Shack again and again. A pioneer of the "open kitchen" restaurant atmosphere, Mary was determined to make everyone feel as if they were in their own home. Mary always wanted to make sure nobody left the Shack hungry, so she gave her guests fair portions and prices.

Today, the third generation of Mary's family uses the same recipes, the same ingredients, and the same love and care that Mary put into everything she made in that small kitchen at the original Shack. Mary wouldn't have it any other way and neither will we. So eat and enjoy!

Original Recipes. Original Shack.

"Our recipes have been handed down from generation to generation."
